1 Deleted documents in Therefore™ Web Client do not go into a recycling bin.

2 Manual links are visible in Therefore™ Web Client, but cannot be created.

3 Documents can be shared with unauthenticated users, other Therefore™ users or with specific users or user groups.

4 As cross-category searches are not available, saved cross-category searches aren't visible on the Therefore™ Web Client.

5 Therefore™ Web Client features a bookmark option instead, allowing quick access to specific items from the Dashboard page.

6 You can only resize the Repository navigation column / document page preview column on the left side of the screen.

7 Configure a Search tile on the dashboard of the Therefore™ Web Client to be able to run a full-text search across categories.

4. Other Differences Concerning the Therefore™ Web Access

- To send documents via email (Send), an SMTP Server/User must be configured.
- Administrators/Operators can configure Anonymous Form Users for Web Forms.
- Within the Therefore™ Classic Web Client, case views cannot be published or deleted.
- The Therefore™ Classic Web Client supports different display modes (thumbnail or details).
- Full-text search highlighting (showing relevant hits within a document) is not supported in the Web Viewer.
- Page size is displayed on the hit-list in the Therefore™ Web Access.
- Sending/Exporting/Deleting a specific page from a multi-page document is not supported.
- Client setup can be downloaded via the Downloads page (must be configured).
- Internal users can change their password in the Therefore™ Classic Web Client.
- The information dialog provides technical information for users (must be configured).
- The "File Created" and "File Modified" macros are not supported due to security reasons.
- When viewing multiple files, the Web Viewer does not generate/display separate thumbnails for every page. The viewer can page through the files via the Ribbon bar.
- When archiving an MSG file, e-mail macros are not supported in the Therefore™ Classic Web Client.
- The option to have a dashboard URL in the installed client is not supported for the Therefore™ Classic Web Client.
- The Therefore™ Add-In for Microsoft Office and the Therefore™ Universal Connector require a local Therefore™ client installation.
